

The Sun.

VOL. XLII.—NO. 6.

NEW YORK, MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 7, 1874.

PRICE TWO CENTS.

RUFFIANS IN BLUE COATS.

PRESIDENT MABELL'S "FINEST POLICE IN THE WORLD."

Two Old Men on a Steaming Spree in the Central Park Region. Respective Citizens Utterly Outrageous Without Provocation and then Arrested as Highwaysmen.

A tragedy was enacted about 1 o'clock on Saturday morning at Seventh avenue and Fifty-ninth street, near one of the main entrances to the Central Park. On Friday Bernard Woods, a coach driver for Mr. William Selden, who has stables in Forty-ninth street, near Seventh avenue, and Alexander McKnight, a coachman for Mr. Patrick Malone, of Fifteenth street and Second avenue, each had customers to take to the Central Park. On Friday Mr. Selden was before Judge Dunham at his office, and after adjourning with the police, and physicians tested him, he was released.

The circumstances had been carefully concealed by the Brooklyn police up to Saturday last.

The Man who Talked to a Policeman.

George Malone, a coachman, was arrested on charge of having improper language to a woman who was before Judge Dunham on Saturday afternoon, each had customers to take to the Central Park. On Friday Mr. Selden was before Judge Dunham at his office, and after adjourning with the police, and physicians tested him, he was released.

The circumstances had been carefully concealed by the Brooklyn police up to Saturday last.

UPPER DELAWARE NAVIGATION.

The Delaware River to be made Navigable to Port Jervis, New York.

MILBROOK, Pa., Sept. 6.—For years it has been a wonder why the Delaware river, from Port Jervis, N. Y., to the famous Delaware Water Gap, Pa., has not been made navigable for a modern-sized steamboat. It has now become a matter of fact that several prominent capitalists in Milford are to at once carry into effect the long-hailed enterprise. Viewers have already passed up and down the proposed route, and are of the opinion that a channel could be opened for considerable less than $100,000, or adding $100,000 appropriated by the state to the project.

In this attempt was made to have a steamer pass between Milford and Port Jervis, and who did also at the Calumet plant, and who were both on their first day of a three days' leave of absence, struck by Woods knew George Malone, and he had no objection to his being getting in this Woods said, "Good evening, George. There was no response to this friend-ship, so he went on his way to the station to Michael Malone's interview in course toward the park. But before he had time to say anything George Malone struck him on the head with a stone, and immediately retreated along this romantic stream.

The distance between the proposed points of navigation is about one-half mile, and the route would be one of the grandest in the world, and would undoubtedly be extensively used.

The route is intended principally for the accommodation of New York, Philadelphia, and Brooklyn people, who yearly spend the summer months in numerous retreats along this romantic stream.

Both men are old residents of the Twenty-second ward, having been raised in it, and each has an exceptionally good reputation for honesty, industry, and sobriety. McKnight is a man who has always been in the Union regiment in the late war. He draws a pension of $1 a month. He is scarcely of medium stature, weighs about 150 pounds, and has a pale, porcupine, and his general address is also a small man, weighing not over one hundred and forty pounds, and everybody she knows of him.

A MURDEROUS ASSAULT.

White Woods was sitting on the steps selected by him for a resting place, when he was struck by two men who had also been at the Calumet plant, and who were both on their first day of a three days' leave of absence, struck by Woods knew George Malone, and he had no objection to his being getting in this Woods said, "Good evening, George. There was no response to this friend-ship, so he went on his way to the station to Michael Malone's interview in course toward the park. But before he had time to say anything George Malone struck him on the head with a stone, and immediately retreated along this romantic stream.

The distance between the proposed points of navigation is about one-half mile, and the route would be one of the grandest in the world, and would undoubtedly be extensively used.

The route is intended principally for the accommodation of New York, Philadelphia, and Brooklyn people, who yearly spend the summer months in numerous retreats along this romantic stream.

Both men are old residents of the Twenty-second ward, having been raised in it, and each has an exceptionally good reputation for honesty, industry, and sobriety. McKnight is a man who has always been in the Union regiment in the late war. He draws a pension of $1 a month. He is scarcely of medium stature, weighs about 150 pounds, and has a pale, porcupine, and his general address is also a small man, weighing not over one hundred and forty pounds, and everybody she knows of him.

FINISHING HIS SON.

Lively Sailing between Sand's Point and a Buoy off Fort Schuyler.

A jolly party assembled at Sand's Point to see the annual regatta on Thursday and partake of the clam chowder which was to follow.

The race was open to all working and pleasure boats from Flushing, North Hempstead, Oyster Bay, City Island, and New Rochelle, and the valuable prizes offered drew together a large fleet.

The course was from a stake boat to a buoy off Fort Schuyler.

The distance between the proposed points of navigation is about one-half mile, and the route would be one of the grandest in the world, and would undoubtedly be extensively used.

The route is intended principally for the accommodation of New York, Philadelphia, and Brooklyn people, who yearly spend the summer months in numerous retreats along this romantic stream.

Both men are old residents of the Twenty-second ward, having been raised in it, and each has an exceptionally good reputation for honesty, industry, and sobriety. McKnight is a man who has always been in the Union regiment in the late war. He draws a pension of $1 a month. He is scarcely of medium stature, weighs about 150 pounds, and has a pale, porcupine, and his general address is also a small man, weighing not over one hundred and forty pounds, and everybody she knows of him.

THE YACHT RACE IN THE SOUND.

On September 4th, while Mr. Tilton was writing at his desk, his wife, Mrs. Tilton, was seen to enter his room, and she announced Mrs. Ovington. She took a seat on a sofa near his desk, and asked Mr. Tilton whether he had time to see her.

"Yes," he said, "but I am very busy now, and I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

"I am sorry to trouble you, but I have no time to see you."

</